

DEPARTMENT INTERNAL SEMINAR

Internal seminar were organized by the Department of Statistics on [6/09/2024 & 9/11/2024] in which ten (10) nos of students of the department delivered individual seminar papers on their respective topics. The seminar was conducted in the presence of the Head of the Department, Prof. Karunakar Muduli, Lecturer in Statistics, Dr. Sitanshu Shekhar Mishra and Miss Tapaswini Mohapatra.

The objective of the seminar was to encourage academic engagement, improve presentation skills, and provide a platform for the students to present their research and understanding on various statistical themes.

After thorough presentations and interactive discussion sessions, it was resolved that:

1. The seminar presentations of all six students were found to be satisfactory and appreciable.
2. The students demonstrated commendable efforts in the preparation and delivery of their respective papers.
3. Constructive feedback was provided by the faculty members for academic improvement.
4. The department encourages the continuation of such seminars at regular intervals to promote academic excellence and research interest among students.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and recorded for academic documentation
